

The image displays a digital therapy device with a silver and black finish. The device has a small LCD screen at the top showing a human figure with various treatment points. Below the screen are several control buttons labeled 'MODE', 'ON/OFF', 'STOP', 'START', and 'MODE'. The device is connected to a white cable. Surrounding the device are several white adhesive pads with green text and markings. Two larger pads are shown with the text '代偿垫' and 'healthy pad'. Two smaller pads are shown below. In the top left corner, there are two small inset images showing a person's back with the pads applied to specific points.
